- A. SPMB is an independent statutory organization established by the rector of the state university in Indonesia. The purpose of SPMB is carrying out the selection on graduated universities all over Indonesia. Beside this task, SPMB has also promoted supporting smart students from poor family to continue study in the universities.
- B. Qualified human resources is one of the important factor on the development of the nation including for the nature conservation program in Indonesia. For this reason, SPMB has allready selected students on the ecology and natural resources management program who are expected to contribute on saving biodiversity in Sumatera region at once they completes their study. The project of the Critical Ecosystem Partnership Fund (CEPF) was very helpful to encourage and to support the selected student during the critical first year of thir study at the university. According to the university report, the grantee students have allready an excellent achivement (appendix1.)
- C. All of the students chosen are studying in the conservation and natural resources management related areas, with the hope that upon their graduation, they will become conservation leaders in their areas, and help to saving Sumatran forest.
- D. We are happy to report that with the exception of very few students, most of the scholars received very high GPA. It is not very easy to predict how they will use the skills and expertise provided by the university as they are just entering the 2nd year of their 5th years of school. However, most of the students graduated from these specific faculties and university enter the job market as government officers at several ministries related to conservation and natural resources management such as Ministry of Environment, Ministry of Agriculture, Ministry of Forestry, and some go to NGOs and private sectors. In fact, some of the top environmental advocacy groups based in Banda Aceh and Jakarta (such as GREENOMICS) are UNSYIAH graduates. We are hoping to monitor the progress of the scholars in the coming years.

- E. When tsunami hit Aceh and North Sumatra in late December 2004, we sadly reported that until today, 7 February 2005, with the help from Purbasari Surjadi, CEPF Grant Manager who travels back and forth to Banda Aceh, 2 out of 6 students in Banda Aceh are still missing. They are Said Andy Saida and Savira Noravita, all of them studying in Universitas Syiah Kuala. We hope to be able to find more information on them.
